

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Since 2004, New Harvest has been advancing groundbreaking research to make food from cells instead of animals.

Our researchers are working at the forefront of science to usher in a new paradigm for food technology.

This work has always been powered by the contributions of donors like you - over 800 individuals who believe in a future where we need not farm animals for meat, milk, or eggs.

Today, we are happy to announce a new contributor to cellular agriculture: Avina Stiftung. To inaugurate their entry to the field, Avina Stiftung is matching all donations to New Harvest up to $100,000.

30 November 2018

If you're excited to be part of a new food movement - join us and double your donation today.
