

Hi friend,

Our latest application cycle brought a number of deeply talented scientists out of the woodwork (announcement forthcoming!).

As a result, New Harvest is growing from supporting networks of individuals (i.e. fellows) to supporting networks of entire labs and institutional consortia. We are looking for people to join our staff of six in globally scaling our research program.

New Harvest is hiring for the following positions:

- Development Manager
- Research Operations Manager
- Research Collaborations Director

If you have been wanting to make the leap into cell ag, reach out! If you know someone who might be a good fit, please send them our way.

Now that we are officially registered up north, Canadian candidates are encouraged to apply. 🇨🇦

Many thanks and have a wonderful long weekend,

Meera
Communications and Media Manager, New Harvest
