

Dear friends of New Harvest,

I'm reaching out with a special update today.

Last year we forged a game-changing partnership with Avina Stiftung, a foundation dedicated to the food of tomorrow (check out their inspiring new website here). In just one year our team doubled, our research programming tripled, and the opportunities landing at our doorstep grew in multiples.

To harness and leverage Avina's escalating support into exponential growth for our organization, our impact, and the cellular agriculture space at large, we're seeking to bring on a talented Chief Operating Officer.

Yes, it is a strange time to hire. However, with the many changes to our ways of working, meeting, and building relationships, onboarding leadership dedicated to team cohesion, clarity, and culture will be immensely beneficial. A COO will ensure that the New Harvest engine continues full steam ahead in the face of uncertainty.

We'd love for you to help us find this talented individual. If you are someone, or know someone who would be a great addition to the New Harvest team, here's the full role description.

Many thanks and all the best,

Isha Datar
Executive Director, New Harvest
