Order a limited edition, cultured meat mask

Hi friend,

If you've seen meat masks around town (on the internet, that is) and been wondering how to get one, you're in luck. We're doing another run of our limited edition, New Harvest cultured meat masks. 100% FBS-free :p

We've partnered with a local Brooklyn artist to sew the masks which are made using the Arashi Shibori dyeing technique to create a pattern with an uncanny resemblance to muscle cells. Due to the dyeing process (which Michela, our art production associate, did herself), no two masks are the same.

Watch the whole process—and our TikTok debut—here.

The specs:

- Adjustable nose wire
- Two layers—100% cotton—with a polypropylene filter
- Thick elastic straps around ears (very comfortable)

We will stop taking orders on September 2nd. We expect to start shipping in mid-September, but please be patient. As we all know, timelines can be notoriously fickle in the world of cell ag ;)

Take care!

Mina

P.S. Should we make more merch? What would you want? Email me your ideas—nothing is off the table (e.g. contact cases?!).
